The Hongkong Telegraph

HONGKONG, TUESDAY, MAY 23, 1882.

If we are not mistaken it was Pliny who made use of the famous expression nemo mortuorum omnibus horis sapit. Truly enough no one is wise at all hours, and even Solomon himself, the ultra-wise, the incarnation of wisdom, was occasionally caught tripping. From a worldly standpoint therefore, it can hardly be regarded as uncommon or marvellous that the local "Three Tailors of Tooley Street," whose matchless impudence in constituting themselves the dictators of the representatives of the Scottish nation in Hongkong has, within the past few days, so effectually roused the "ruddy lion rampant" from his summer siesta, should have sacrificed reason and common sense at the shrine of inordinate vanity. These few wise men of the East, to whom we heartily give the credit of meaning well, would appear, in their extraordinary course of action, to have forgotten national interests and national traditions, the clanish, shoulder to shoulder principles which invariably, and very properly, characterise the Scot abroad, in all undertakings of a national character, for reasons which we are quite unable to fathom, and which moreover we do not care to know. It is our duty however, as a Scot, and as a representative of Scottish interests, to repudiate as a national institution, any society organised and established in hole-and-corner fashion by a few private individuals, whose presumption and bad taste have apparently far exceeded their common sense. This is no personal matter, but a thoroughly national grievance, affecting all classes of Scotsmen alike.

On the 19th inst. a correspondent directed our attention to an advertisement in the local papers, headed, Hongkong St. Andrew's Society, and intimating that "In compliance with provisions of Rule 2, a special meeting of the members is hereby convened to be held in the City Hall, on Friday evening, the 26th instant, at six o'clock," and inquired if we were in a position to give him any reliable information about this society, which appeared to have sprung up mushroom-like, and of the existence of which the majority of Scotsmen in the Colony knew nothing. We were quite as much in the dark as our correspondent; and but for the notice being signed by Mr. A. MacClymont, a gentleman who has for several years acted as Secretary at the annual balls given by the Scottish community on St. Andrew's Day, we should have looked upon the affair as a hoax. However, we promised our correspondent that we would investigate the matter, for his information and our own satisfaction, and we have done so. It has been customary for the gentlemen who officiate as Stewards at the annual celebrations in honour of St. Andrew, to meet on the evening after the Ball, and have a social dinner together. At the last Stewards' dinner, held on December 1st, 1881, the subject of establishing a St. Andrew's or Caledonian Society in Hongkong—a project which we had on more occasions than one personally advocated at the public meetings of Scotsmen held in connection with St. Andrew's Day celebrations at the City Hall—was informally brought up by Mr. JAMES BOYD and the Hon. P. RYRIE, and met with general approval. On December 7th, at another meeting of the Stewards, Mr. RYRIE again brought up the matter, and we learn that 28 gentlemen who were present acquiesced in the proposal to establish a St. Andrew's Society, and Mr. A. MacClymont kindly consented to act as Honorary Secretary pro tem, in order to further preliminary arrangements. It was then understood that a public meeting of Scotsmen would be convened in order to establish the proposed national society on a proper basis. However, no such meeting was ever held, and the first intimation the public receives is Mr. MacClymont's announcement that a Hongkong St. Andrew's Society has been privately established, and convening a meeting of its members.

It would be difficult to find censorious language strong enough to apply to the gentlemen who, while acting as representatives of the Scotch community in connection with the St. Andrew's Ball, took it upon themselves to establish a national society for the furtherance of national objects, and to represent Scottish ideas, on their own responsibility, without in any way consulting the wishes of the general body of Scotsmen in the Colony. One of the two gentlemen who mooted the idea of starting a society at the STEWARDS' dinner, informs us that he was in total ignorance that anything definite had been arranged. Although a prime mover in the proposal, he had heard nothing whatever personally of the matter since February, but he was informed that a set of draft rules had been circulated amongst the gentlemen who had expressed their willingness to become members, sometime ago. Still he was under the impression that nothing definite had been settled.

We do not dispute the right of a party of gentlemen to combine in forming any kind of society or institution, so long as such action is not an infringement on national prerogatives. In this case, we do not dislike the principles of the institution, but merely disapprove of the manner in which a number of unauthorised persons have taken upon themselves positions and responsibilities, very materially affecting national interests, without the slightest show of authority from the members of the Scottish community. History repeats itself for this is the story of the "Three Tailors of Tooley Street" over again. With our correspondent, we should really like to know by whose authority Mr. A. MacClymont announces the existence of a Hongkong St. Andrew's Society. In the meantime we must decline to recognise this gentleman as the representative of Scottish feeling on this subject, until the whole question has been publicly discussed at a meeting in which the whole of the Scotsmen in the Colony are invited to take part. We have lately had a good deal too much of this bed-chamber kind of diplomacy in public matters in Hongkong. All public questions are open for public discussion, and as a St. Andrew's Society cannot be anything but a national institution, in which public interests are strongly represented, Scotsmen have a perfect right to protest against the action of any particular clique, and to demand to be heard. We do not wish to be too severe on these self-appointed arbiters of Scottish affairs, as we are ready to admit that the intentions of the promoters of the new national institution are beyond all praise. We have no doubt the worthy gentleman, whose name figures at the bottom of the notice convening the meeting, and who appears on his own responsibility to have taken the most prominent part in the business, wishes himself well out of the affair.

We have received, "with Mr. G. Minchin's compliments," from Fochow, a small pamphlet entitled "On the Other Side of the Question," which contains some explanatory remarks concerning the news given by the Hongkong Telegraph's Fochow correspondent. The pamphlet is signed "W. T. Key." As soon as we can spare a few moments to go through this gentleman's explanatory remarks, they will receive our best attention.

OWING to the unpropitious state of the elements the performance announced to take place last night at Chiarini's Royal Italian Circus and Menagerie, was unavoidably postponed. The company will, however, make their second appearance before a Hongkong audience this evening, when an attractive programme will be gone through. Tickets purchased for last night's, will be available for this evening's performance. The public are reminded that tickets may be secured daily from 11 till 4 at Mr. Moore's office, Hongkong Hotel, and after 4 at the entrance to the circus.

We are very glad to hear that the Freemasons of Fochow have determined to build a Masonic Hall, and that all preliminaries have already been settled. Our friends in the Fokien province must certainly be congratulated on their enterprise and energy. A new Recreation Ground and Race-course, two race meetings per annum, and the preliminaries of a Freemason's Hall, all arranged within the space of a few months, speak volumes. They have evidently some men in Fochow, a kind of animal we are sadly lacking in this official ridden nest of cant, humbug, and hypocrisy.

FROM Hankow, says the Courier of the 18th instant, we learn that the Stirling Castle is full up with tea at £7.70 per ton. She will leave to-night, and may be expected off Woosung on Saturday. Thus, the first tea ship will leave the Whang-poo four days earlier than any steamer of last year. Opinions differ as to the rate at which the Stirling Castle will travel home. The average betting is against 28 days, and in favour of thirty, from Woosung. The possibility of a stoppage in the Suez Canal being taken into consideration, twenty-nine days is perhaps, as hazardous a bet as any plunger would care to lay. The twenty-five day gentleman is, we hear, feeling as though it would have been wiser not to have backed his opinion for anything more valuable than words.

As peace makers we are inexpressibly happy, but as journalists we are, we must confess, somewhat disappointed at the finale of what we thought was going to be a big thing. This morning the intrepid Mrs. Freeman of the Buffs, accompanied by two staunch lady supporters, and her husband, appeared at the Police Court in re the assault case against Color Sergeant Meredith, the latter being "dead on" to Mrs. F., by way of cross summons, for disfiguring the bridge of his rather well shaped proboscis. Color Sergeant Meredith was also accompanied by his friends and supporters, Sergeant Major Gleeson being present to decide any intricate case of appeal. Mrs. Freeman, upon the case being called, promptly entered the witness box, and represented to Captain Thomsen that her legal adviser, to whom she had entrusted her fate, had not as yet shown up, but that she had no doubt he would quickly appear in an appearance. Meredith's lawyer, Mr. Mossop, a Dublin man, who is generally known where there is anything on the board, was already present, supported by some ponderous legal luminaries, Coke on Lyttelton and other eminent legal luminaries, and fully prepared to go for Mrs. Freeman's lawyer, should he expose any vulnerable point in his legal armour. Some twenty minutes had elapsed, when Mr. Stephens appeared on the scene, evidently not prepared to fight, but rather, if he could see his way clear, to throw oil upon the troubled waters. Mr. Stephens wore a very mild, subdued expression, and we could see at once that he was open to a compromise, and were fully prepared to hear of an amicable arrangement being come to. Mr. Stephens, after apologising to his Worship for the unnecessary delay he had occasioned the Court by not showing up at the appointed time, proceeded to suggest a quiet settlement of the business, and after some plavver reticence, had not as yet shown up, but that she had no doubt he would quickly appear in an appearance. Mr. Stephens, after apologising to his Worship for the unnecessary delay he had occasioned the Court by not showing up at the appointed time, proceeded to suggest a quiet settlement of the business, and after some plavver reticence, had not as yet shown up, but that she had no doubt he would quickly appear in an appearance. Meredith's lawyer, Mr. Mossop, a Dublin man, who is generally known where there is anything on the board, was already present, supported by some ponderous legal luminaries, Coke on Lyttelton and other eminent legal luminaries, and fully prepared to go for Mrs. Freeman's lawyer, should he expose any vulnerable point in his legal armour. Some twenty minutes had elapsed, when Mr. Stephens appeared on the scene, evidently not prepared to fight, but rather, if he could see his way clear, to throw oil upon the troubled waters. Mr. Stephens wore a very mild, subdued expression, and we could see at once that he was open to a compromise, and were fully prepared to hear of an amicable arrangement being come to. Mr. Stephens, after apologising to his Worship for the unnecessary delay he had occasioned the Court by not showing up at the appointed time, proceeded to suggest a quiet settlement of the business, and after some plavver reticence, had not as yet shown up, but that she had no doubt he would quickly appear in an appearance. Meredith's lawyer, Mr. Mossop, a Dublin man, who is think I have mentioned this band before, when they first performed in public. The whole have been taught to play the various instruments that go to make up a band, and now play remarkably well from notes. The bandsmen are young Chinese lads who, Mr. Bigelsays, learn to read music very quickly, and keep excellent time. Why should not your Municipal Council try the same plan?—these Chinese lads are always pleasant and always sober.

Our distinguished visitors have been Sir Thomas Wade from Peking, and Admiral Willes, C.B., from the Vigilant and the Sheeldrake and Vigilant.

There is very little news to chronicle but what there is you shall have. Miss Olga Dubbin gave an instrumental concert at the Club theatre last Wednesday, which appeared to delight our numerous amateur pianists. The gifted lady left next day for Peking. Everyone is wondering what has brought H.M. Minister to the hot plains of Tientsin when the green hills beyond Peking are now in their first freshness, but as the Admiral timed his visit just when H.M. Minister did, people think there is something more than smoke and say that negotiations are being carried on with the Viceroy so that England may have a share in the opening of Corea. The rumours here are that China has arranged everything with Corea to open two ports to foreign trade and is desirous that the first treaty Corea makes shall be with the United States, it being supposed that that government will be more liberal in her treatment of Corea, and will not press any opinion class in her treaty. It is said here that Commodore Schuchfeldt has been especially appointed to negotiate the treaty. The Korean Ambassador left here in the Chinese gun-boat Taekwang last month. I think it very probable that when the Viceroy has arranged with H.M. Minister the treaty, or arrangements for trade with Corea, we will see the Admiral and Sir Thomas Wade leave here in the Vigilant for Chefoo and join in procession to Corea.

The Peiho River has been a highway to everyone who has had anything to do with it. The greatest part of the Tientsin Reach has filled up with hard sand, so that steamers had to discharge nearly all their cargo before they could get up this reach, and even when empty they must wait for nearly high water, for anything drawing eleven feet gets stuck. The Vigilant has stuck at the double bend for want of water, drawing eleven feet and will have probably to remain until the spring tides, seven days hence, and to make matters still worse, the large grain junks take up a large portion of a very narrow channel. Still the collisions have been wonderfully few, considering the difficulty of navigating so shallow and crowded a river.

The Bunding scheme for extending the bund from the French Settlement to the Viceroy's Yamen has been given up, and in place of it two good roads are to be made, both roads, leaving the Taku Road at the top of the French Settlement, one leading to the south, and the other towards the East Gates of the City. With respect to the collection of the other day, I notice from a circular going round to-day that the collection has been again authorized by H.M. Consul. These dues are to be divided between the two settlements and the Chinese authorities; and will go to keeping the bund in order, and the making of the roads above mentioned.

I have just heard that the Viceroy has sent a strong petition to the throne to be allowed to retire, and go into mourning for at least one year. The Chinese say he is very anxious to retire from office altogether, that he is getting old and feels the worry and anxiety connected with his high office tell upon his health. I hear some of the officers have tried the "Kai-ping" coal, and speak very highly of it, it is said to have great heating power, no clinkers, very little smoke, and burns to a fine white ash. The price here is 11s. 5 per ton. The China Merchants are preparing to extend their end of the bund six hundred and twenty feet, to provide coal yards, and wharves for the mining company.

Chief Justice Snowden passed through Tientsin to-day on his way to Peking.—Courier.

HOME NEWS.

The following items from the London and China Express of the 14th ult., were crushed out of our yesterday's issue:—

Advices from New York, March 30, state that while the Luzon, from Manila for New York, was lying in a dense fog on March 27, at 10 p.m., in lat. 38.50, long. 73.40, she was run into by the Harvard, from Messina for New York, carrying a large lower foremast and mainmast, gallantly and jacks, smashed rail and head chainplates and channels, and other slight damage about the deck. The Harvard had her jibboom and all attached, foreyard, foretopgallantmast, yards, sails, &c., carried away, and broke main rail.

The composite gun vessel, Wanderer, now building at Middleborough-on-Tees, will be taken to Sheerness V.D. to complete, at a cost of £1,500. The vessel is of the steel-composite class—150ft. long, 35ft. wide, and 6ft. 6in. depth of hold. She will have engines of 750-horse power, and will steam twelve knots per hour. Being constructed mainly upon the model of the Chinese gunboats—or rather, floating gun-carriages, as designed by Mr. Rendal, the new Admiralty Civil Lord—she will be armed with one 12-ton and two 6-ton guns and two Nordenfledts. Three vessels of the same class are to be laid down in Devonport Yard and advanced about one-eighth.

The Admiralty have ordered the Sultan to be commissioned on the 20th inst. for Channel Squadron service, with the unexpectedly large complement of 665 men. The squadron is to be further reinforced by the torpedo depot ship Hecla. Captain W. J. Hunt-Grubbe, C.B., who has been appointed to the Sultan when commissioned, commanded the Tamar from May, 1872, until May, 1875; conveyed the 23rd Royal Welsh Fusiliers to Cape Coast Castle, and commanded the Ashantee during the second phase of the Ashantee war until its conclusion. Captain Hunt-Grubbe was present at the capture of Fort-Bonassar, battles of Ansofof and Ordahsu, and capture of Coomassie, being severely wounded, and mentioned in despatches (Ashantee medal, Coomassie clasp); is an aide-de-camp to the Queen. He was made a companion of the Bath in 1874.

Vice-Admiral William Montague Dorell, C.B., who has been appointed to succeed Rear-Admiral the Hon. H. Carr-Glyn, C.B., in the command of the Channel Squadron, will hoist his flag on board the Minotaur. He entered the Navy in 1839, and was present at the bombardment and capture of Amoy and bombardment of Ningbo, 1840-42. He was promoted for services with the Naval Brigade at the siege of Sebastopol. He served in the 3rd Division of the Naval Brigade in December, 1857, at the capture of Canton, where he was wounded; and for services rendered in Japan in 1864 was made a C.B. He has received the Crimean, Turkish, and China medals, the Sebastopol and Canton clasps, the Fifth Clasp of the Order of the Medjidie, and is a Knight of the Legion of Honour. Captain John Fennox was Flag Captain of the Vice-Admiral Dorell. He was born in 1824, and entered the Royal Navy in 1846. He served in the Arcturion and the Highflyer from 1860-68, on the East Coast of Africa, in the suppression of the slave trade, being twice wounded in several engagements with "piratical" slave thows; and was also wounded in an attack on the Rafit Forts, in the Persian Gulf, in 1866.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "HONGKONG TELEGRAPH."

SIR,—Has it ever struck you the unbusiness like manner in which some of the business houses here do their work? In Europe, shopkeepers are always civil (it pays them to be so), in Hongkong where there is comparatively no competition or opposition, they are not always so. This I suppose, because there is no "next door," however, it would take nothing off their retail prices to treat their customers with a little courtesy. The practice too of sending their bills round in open envelopes, is most objectionable, and I fail to see what is gained by leaving the envelopes open. A Chinaman hands you 50 or 100 bills, and you "finger" over them till you find your own, taking a cursory glance at your neighbours. I am ashamed to acknowledge it, but it is a fact, some ladies, ever inquisitive, take a "wee peep" inside.

If you share my opinion concerning these business houses, will you kindly insert this matter in your Telegraph, and force it upon the minds of the European shopkeepers to whom it refers.

Mr. MOORE begs to recommend his

to the public as unrivalled by any preparation ever produced for promoting the growth of the hair. The basis of this compound is made of soap root—the natives of the Philippine Islands never use anything else for washing their hair; they are never found bald, and it is quite common to see the females with hair from 5 to 6 feet long. By constantly using this Shampoo Wash as directed, you will NEVER BE BALD.

The proprietor offers the Wash to the public entirely confident that by its restorative properties it will without fail arrest decaying hair. It completely eradicates scurf, dandruff, and cures all diseases of the scalp. It does not contain any poisonous drugs. By its cooling properties it allays the itching and fever of the scalp, which is the great cause of people losing their hair.

Mr. MOORE has succeeded in being able to put this wash up in bottles without allowing it to ferment, and he will guarantee it to keep any length of time in any climate.

THIS DAY, FOUR P.M.

A few Banks changed hands this forenoon at 116 per cent. premium, and a further supply of shares, to a limited extent, might be secured at the same rate. Docks have also been made the medium of some transactions, several lots having been negotiated at 50 per cent. premium for the end of the month, and doubtless, further business will be put through on similar conditions, although, just at present, both buyers and sellers appear disinclined to deal in this stock to any extent. Further sales in Luzons at 118, cash, have been reported, and the stock may be said to be fairly firm at the quotation. Other quotations remain unchanged.

W. P. MOORE begs to inform the Gentlemen of Hongkong and Visitors that he has reduced the price of Hair-Cutting to 50 cents.

Having now in his employ three competent Assistants who are always in attendance, he guarantees to execute this class of work, in all its branches, with a perfection which cannot be exceeded in any part of the World.

Hair-Cutting, 50 Cents.

RATES.

RAZOR'S MOST CAREFULLY RE-SET.

Mr. MOORE begs to recommend his

GOGO SHAMPOO WASH

to the public as unparalleled by any preparation ever produced for promoting the growth of the hair. The basis of this compound is made of soap root, the natives of the Philippine Islands never use anything else for washing their hair; they are never found bald,

and it is quite common to see the females with hair from 5 to 6 feet long. By constantly using this Shampoo Wash, as directed, you will NEVER BE BALD.

The proprietor offers the Wash to the public entirely confident that by its restorative properties it will without fail arrest decaying hair. It completely eradicates scurf, dandruff, and cures all diseases of the scalp. It does not contain any poisonous drugs. By its cooling properties it allays the itching and fever of the scalp, which is the great cause of people losing their hair.

Mr. MOORE has succeeded in being able to put this Wash up in bottles without allowing it to ferment, and he will guarantee it to keep any length of time in any climate. [68]
